22. Future plans:

- As an Assistant Professor, I believe that several strategic considerations should be prioritized to enhance both the college's growth and the academic development of our students: Embrace E-Learning: To ensure accessibility and flexibility in education, we should expand our utilization of e-learning platforms.
- This approach ensures that students can access course materials and resources online, even if they miss physical class sessions due to any reason. This not only fosters inclusivity but also aligns with contemporary educational trends.
- Develop Supplementary Study Materials: Crafting additional study materials tailored for competitive examinations like CTET, M.Ed, PGT, TGT, and others is essential. These materials should provide comprehensive coverage of relevant topics, aiding students in their exam preparations and enhancing the college's reputation as a hub for academic excellence. By integrating these strategies into our educational framework, we can contribute significantly to the college's growth and the academic success of our students, catering to their diverse needs and aspirations.
