Program Outcome-PG

The main purpose of the PG Programmes Sociology is to develop and disseminate knowledge and research findings that advance the understanding of human behaviour and social structures existing in the society. The programme is designed to a diverse learning environment, in respect for dignity and worth of all human beings and understanding of diverse conditions. It respects individual and societal uniqueness and offers a professional program to build a foundation for practice with population groups keeping the larger society in mind. At the end of the two year of the program following outcomes are expected from students, to understand history and evolution of sociology in India and the West. Students will have to understand origin and development of ideologies and approaches to social change and to understand contemporary reality in its sociological perspectives. Students will also be able to understand the classifications of social groups in society and also know the preventive and remedial measures for contemporary social issues and role of sociology in addressing social issues with a goal in mind.
