32. Future plans:

As I strive to enhance my teaching skills, I am eager to explore and adopt modern digital teaching techniques. Although it may be a bit daunting, I have been entrusted with the task of guiding a PhD student through their academic journey. To keep up with the evolving curriculum, I recognize the importance of delving into various subjects through additional reading. I am also enthusiastic about embracing valuable insights from fellow faculty members, as their suggestions could significantly contribute to my growth as an educator. This dynamic blend of learning new approaches, mentoring a student, staying informed, and seeking collaborative wisdom exemplifies my commitment to continuous improvement in the art of teaching.
